CLIC for more info

We are pleased to report that the construction of the new Community Hub, Library and Innovation Centre (CLIC) is progressing well and is on track for completion by September 2019.

The demolition process proved to be slightly more complicated than anticipated, with oversized footings requiring additional time on site to complete demolition.

A high level of care was needed during demolition to ensure the adjacent local heritage-listed Town Hall was not damaged during any of the works, with specialist firm Samaras brought in to complete the delicate task of removing the old atrium.

After such an exciting start to the project, with the demolition of the former civic centre transforming the site and revealing the northern wall of the Town Hall, the subsequent civil works for the Community Hub, Library and Innovation Centre (CLIC) have seemed slow in comparison. This is a critically important part of the project, as this activity (quite literally!) puts in place the foundation for the rest of the construction process.

With civil works now complete, in coming months we'll see the new building start to come out of the ground, with the basement precast panels being erected in September. Steelwork from ground to first floor will follow in October, as the building starts to take shape and peek above the hoarding on Prospect Road.

With works continuing on the construction of the new CLIC, we can all look forward to watching the facility take shape over the coming months. Passers-by have enjoyed being able to watch construction progress through the special portholes provided in the covered passageway at the front of the site, or via unrestricted views through the rear fencing.

Check in to see the latest via cityofprospect.engagementhub.com.au or sneak a peek on-site at 128-130 Prospect Road, Prospect.

Community Portal: Online requests and payments made simpler

We have launched our new Community Portal, an upgrade of City of Prospect's existing facility used to make payments and request services. We have made significant improvements to this facility to help you register and interact with Council online.

The Community Portal has a contemporary and intuitive tile-based interface. Key features include:

- Self-registration. This allows you to register as a user and link your account to assist with payments and the request for services.

- Quick creation of service requests. Registered users will have all personal details pre-filled when logged on.
- Specifying a location when requesting services by using Google Maps or alternatively by entering a street address.
- Viewing the status of your service request.
- Viewing the status of your planning application.

Enhancement to the Portal will be continuous.

Looking forward to your registration via www.prospect.sa.gov.au/CommunityPortal

COUNCIL ELECTIONS

- 2018 -

Participating in your local council election is one of the most direct ways you can make a difference to everyday life in your community.

- FIND OUR MORE -

VOTE

must be received before 5pm
Friday 9 November 2018

Consider for a moment how everyday life is improved by the many services that are provided in City of Prospect.

Imagine being able to lead discussions around services, represent the interests of our community, shape the strategic direction of our city, make decisions about Prospect council services and resource allocation and participate in discussions around the direction of our local landscape.

Your Vote Counts

Unlike State and Federal elections, it is not compulsory to vote in South Australian council elections. However, council elections are the biggest single voluntary civic participation activity in the state with nearly 360,000 people voting in the 2014 council elections.

Voting in council elections is conducted through a postal ballot. If you are on the State (House of Assembly) electoral roll or have completed an enrolment form to join the supplementary roll, you will receive a voting pack in the mail in late October 2018.

The ballot paper in your voting pack will show the candidates standing for election in your council ward. Simply complete your ballot paper and return it in the reply paid envelope.

To find out more about each of the candidates and what they stand for go to www.lga.sa.gov.au/councilelections.

Votes must be received before 5pm Friday 9 November 2018.

If you are eligible to vote in your local council elections, you are probably also eligible to stand for a position on council.

Do you want to be an Elected Member?

With very few exceptions, you can nominate for a position on City of Prospect regardless of qualifications, religion, race, gender, experience or profession. In fact, we actively encourage nominations from people with diverse backgrounds to ensure that a wide range of views are being represented.

Are you passionate about City of Prospect community and want to make a difference? Why not get involved and nominate to become a Councillor? Or if that sounds a little daunting, you can make your voice heard by submitting your postal vote in the up and coming elections.

Nomination process

Nominations to become an Elected Member for City of Prospect open Tuesday 4 September 2018 and close Tuesday 18 September 2018 at 12noon. During this time, you must complete and lodge a nomination form, which is available from our Council office at the Town Hall, 126 Prospect Road, Prospect.

○ Driver Safety

○ Remembering to bring in your bin

Did you know that rubbish bins need to be returned to your premises within 24 hours after collection has occurred, otherwise you might be committing an offence?

Once emptied, bins remaining on the street for longer than necessary can become a hazard for pedestrians and motorists, so we ask that they're moved back onto your property on the same day after collection.

Winter is over and beautiful spring weather has finally arrived! With this, many of us are now walking and cycling throughout our beautiful city.

The warmer weather also means an increase in cyclists and motorists sharing space on the road and pedestrians crossing arterial and local roads. It's important for all motorists, cyclists and pedestrians to be aware of each other on roads and footpath and remember to share the road safely.

While you are driving, keep an eye out for pedestrians and cyclists, especially on warmer days. Cycling becomes more popular in spring, so watch out for cyclists at intersections, in your blind spot and when merging, turning or passing other cars.

Driving in wet weather may have taken a toll on your car so it's a good time to inspect your car and undertake any maintenance that may be required. For cyclists, now would be a good time to service your bike, especially if it has been stored away during the winter season.

○ Street tree planting

You may have noticed that new street trees are being planted at the moment.

Spring is the ideal time to plant trees and we excited to be planting in excess of 170 trees throughout the city. We take lots of pride in, and care of, our street trees so we can continue to increase our leafy canopy coverage.

Our trees will need extra water during hot/dry periods and we love to see our community helping by adding a few buckets of water to younger trees during these dry months.

Trees are critical to our health and wellbeing and provide so many positive benefits. We look forward to watching our trees slowly mature and create more and more streets with green leafy tunnels.

Hardwaste collection services

Each household within City of Prospect is eligible for three free hard waste collections per financial year.

All hard waste collections must be pre-arranged by calling the Council’s Waste Enquiry Line on 1800 283 529.

Each household is entitled to up to 2 cubic metres (2m long x 1m wide x 1m high), the equivalent of a standard trailer load. Items placed into plastic bags will not be collected.

Please note that this service is a domestic hard waste service and is not available to businesses.*

Capital Works

Each year, Council commits budget to undertake renewal and upgrading of public infrastructure throughout our city.

The 2018/19 financial year will see us deliver road resurfacing program, kerb and gutter reconstruction, Prospect Road Streetscape Upgrade, including undergrounding of power lines, and kerb ramp upgrades. These works will improve the look and feel of public realm infrastructure for all road users and help to manage our stormwater, which is also a high priority.

TreeNet Inlets

In order to improve tree watering and reduce some of the impact to the stormwater runoff, Council has installed TreeNet Inlets in kerbs throughout the city as part of the kerb and gutter renewal program. TreeNet inlets capture water flowing along the gutter into the verge area and the water is stored in a soakage pit, which feeds street trees and vegetation. This improves tree health and promotes growth of newly planted street trees, making good use of stormwater running down our waterways. Lookout for these TreeNet inlets coming to a kerb and water table near you soon!

Line marking

As the weather improves over spring, Council will be installing new or refreshing existing line marking, with particular emphasis at zig-zag lines adjacent to schools, stop and give way signs, roundabouts and speed humps. Line marking improves road safety to ensure safe use of our roads for all users.

Quick response Public Art grants available

City of Prospect supports public art across our city; inspiring and delighting the community and visitors alike.

Quick Response Grants for small temporary public art projects are now available, providing the opportunity for artists and art groups to receive funding to support temporary art interventions that will enhance the public realm for the benefit of the Prospect community.

To be eligible, artists must propose an activity that will take place in City of Prospect and be a practising, professional, emerging, hobbyist or community artist. All temporary public artwork must be completed within twelve months of funding being received.

Priority will be given to artistic proposals that are new, innovative and aim to engage people, which improves local amenity and occurs in areas not usually considered as sites for public art. In the case of murals, artists must provide written approvals from relevant property owners.

Commercial artists and entities are not eligible to apply. Other rules which will prevent artists receiving funding include activities or programs which seek to make a profit, projects which have a political or religious purpose, or any which have previously received funding from Council.

Applications can be submitted up to 30 June 2019, or until funds run out.

Is that a boat in the Gallery?

Wisdom from a Fold-Up Boat runs from 25 October to 25 November

Prospect Gallery's 'Wisdom from a Fold-Up Boat' exhibition comes from two friends who began a watery adventure 13 years ago and discovered much more than they expected.

One of them, local photographer Peter Lindon, kept his cameras at the ready in upwards of 40 trips and expeditions throughout South Australia's quiet waterways.

"It's amazing," he said. "We're in the driest state in the driest continent and there's still so much to see and so much variety. Who'd have thought we had such watery beauty so close to home."

But the biggest surprise turned out to be the boat itself. It folds up and, on roof racks, looks no bigger than a long surfboard. So they could take it anywhere, going to places you can't get to without a boat and to views only possible from a boat. The price of this feature is that the boat can't go much faster than walking pace.

"But that lack of speed" said Peter "forced us to go gently and then inspired us to see our world through new eyes. It really is true, the slower you go the more you see."

Wisdom from a Fold-Up Boat exhibition events at Prospect Gallery

- Exhibition opening 6pm Thursday 25 October – all welcome
- Boaties Special – Sunday 11 November at 3pm - for people with an interest in small boats or exploring South Australian waterways – all welcome
- A celebration of The Toad - closing event – Sunday 25 November at 3pm – all welcome.

In addition to the popular competition sports at Broadview Oval, there are now many new features to explore.

We have been busy constructing a new path around the oval, installed new fitness equipment, upgraded one of the public tennis courts into a mixed-use court and constructed a new bicycle track. Make your way to Broadview Oval and try out the new facilities!

Mixed-Use Court

We have revamped one of our public tennis courts at Broadview Oval to a mixed-use court. The court, located on the corner of Poltawa Terrace and McInnes Avenue, features a full tennis court and half-court basketball. The basketball court has been a huge success as we see people have already been using it and we've had great feedback from the community.

New Path and Fitness Station

We have been busy constructing a new path around the oval, incorporating a fitness station with a mix of hydraulic and static equipment. The track includes distance markers along the way so you can 'track' your progress.

Upgraded Bicycle Track

Our bicycle track located on the corner of McInnes Avenue and Myponga Terrace has been upgraded and resurfaced to provide more challenges for the budding BMX-er!

Some of our Hidden Treasure Playspaces to visit in Spring

St Helens Park

This award-winning playspace was redeveloped a few years ago and incorporates a mix of structured play equipment and nature play elements. Our community was involved in the artistic elements including a totem pole, mosaic steppers and BBQ feature. It's a beautiful park to enjoy a BBQ or picnic with plenty of shade and seating for all ages, as well as open space for kids to run around.

Ern Sconce Rotary Park

This playspace was redeveloped a few years ago in close consultation with our community. New play equipment complements the natural aspect of the park and provides a variety of play value. Based on feedback from the community, we were also able to install a small basketball area for visitors to use. This is a great place to visit for families with younger children.

DVD Review: MY COUSIN RACHEL

Directed by Roger Michell, starring Rachel Weisz, Sam Claflin and Holliday Grainger.

This film, directed by Roger Michell and released in Australia in June 2017, is based on the classic novel of the same name by Daphne Du Maurier. It has an M rating (sex scene and coarse language) and is a compelling watch. My Cousin Rachel tells the viewers about Philip Ashley, orphaned as a young child and raised by his older and unmarried cousin Ambrose to be his heir on his Cornish country estate.

It is not clear when the story is set, but definitely in olden times, before modern technology. After Philip returns home from studying at Oxford, his cousin Ambrose travels aboard for his health. While away, Ambrose meets a lady called Rachel, and unexpectedly marries her. The cousins maintain contact through written letters, and Philip becomes concerned when Ambrose's last scrawled letter accuses Rachel of doing for him.

Philip travels to Italy, to discover that Ambrose has died, supposedly from a brain tumour, and he immediately blames Rachel. On Philip's return home, he starts to take up management of the country estate, under the watchful guidance of his guardian, Nick Kendall, also his godfather, as the inheritance will not pass to Philip until his 25th birthday. Newly widowed Cousin Rachel makes her way to England and is invited to stay at the estate in Cornwall. Rachel Weisz is beautifully cast as the mysterious and alluring Cousin Rachel, who may be subtly scheming to obtain the family fortune and land, while Sam Claflin is convincing as the naïve and eager young Englishman who finds himself strongly attracted to his Cousin Rachel, despite his suspicions. Did she or didn't she? Recommended viewing!

Book Review: EVERY NOTE PLAYED

By Lisa Genova.

This eagerly awaited novel from best-selling author Lisa Genova lives up to the high standards set by her earlier novels Still Alice, Left Neglected,

Love Anthony and Inside the O'Briens. Genova writes a painful and moving story about accomplished concert pianist Richard Evans who is diagnosed with Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS). The novel follows Richard's decline as ALS paralyses his body in a short space of time. It explores his troubled relationship with his former wife Karina who reluctantly takes on the role of caring for him when Richard is no longer able to live on his own.

Genova's novel clearly depicts the horrifying effects of this implacable disease but in such a way that the reader can understand and feel for the sufferer. Even though the central character Richard is hard to like at first with his self-centred outlook on life, one cannot help but be drawn into wanting Richard and his divorced wife to reconcile and find a happy ending to their story. Highly recommended for readers who love a compelling story, but be warned, it would be wise to have some tissues within reach.

If you enjoy this, seek out the other novels by this author, each of which looks at a different medical condition (Alzheimer's, autism and Huntington's disease, brain injury) in an insightful and heart-wrenching way.

○ Exploring apps

Favourite apps from the Digital Learning team.

David and Tara of the Digital Learning team oversee lots of fun digital activities for all ages. Throughout their day they supervise volunteers in the delivery of one-on-one technology tutoring to adults, as well as developing a range of activities for our younger learners.

It's safe to say they get to have loads of fun learning how to use cool digital devices, and a bunch of really fun apps! Below you'll find a few of their suggestions for educational apps for kids of all ages.

Scratch – on PC through your browser; Scratch JNR on mobile devices

Have you ever wanted to learn how to code but thought it was too hard to get started? Well you obviously haven't yet heard of Scratch.

Scratch is a program that is specifically designed for 8 to 16 years old, however both kids and parents can use it. It teaches the principles of event-based programming, which is the basis for a lot of what we do on our mobile devices today.

The program works by creating blocks of code that you fit together like a jigsaw puzzle to trigger an action. For example, you might create a project where the space bar on your keyboard triggers a character on the screen (called a 'sprite') to move forward a certain amount of steps.

Scratch is designed and maintained by the Lifelong Kindergarten Group at the MIT Media Lab. You'll find it great for teaching kids to problem solve, reason systematically, and think creatively.

Find out more here: scratch.mit.edu

Swift Playgrounds – Apple only

Swift is a fairly new programming language developed by Apple, and can be used to code on both phones and desktops.

Amazingly, there is an app designed for 10-year-olds and over which takes them through the basics right up to advanced, and is a lot of fun. So kids play while also learning a pretty powerful coding language.

By downloading Swift Playgrounds, they are able to pick up the principles of Swift code by solving puzzles using cute animated friends. It's enjoyable and makes learning the Swift code much easier than dry book instructions.

Find out more here:

apple.com/au/swift/playgrounds

Garage Band – Apple only

An oldie but a goodie, Garage Band is a great way to discover the fun of creating music at any age. David at Prospect Library led a workshop in Garage Band with kids during the last school holidays, and it was a noisy, energetic success!

You'll find Garage Band already downloaded on current iPads and iPhones.

At City of Prospect we are committed to supporting a prosperous local economy in lots of different ways. Get to know some of the projects we are working on at the moment!

GigCity & Prospect Road Innovation Precinct

City of Prospect is now part of the State Government's GigCity network. The GigCity project will deliver ultra-high speed internet to businesses, with speeds between 1- 10 gigabits per second. The addition of high speed, low cost data will be an essential ingredient to attracting defence, security, Information and Communication Technology (ICT) and other commercial businesses to the precinct. The estimated economic impact of the establishment of the GigCity connection and the development in the Prospect Road Innovation Precinct will add over $30 million to the region's gross regional product over each of the coming four years, with an estimated 330 (full time equivalent) new jobs per annum.

Prospect Business Leaders

The Prospect Business Leaders group attended a business breakfast at The Upside on Prospect in July. This group will help advise Council on possible directions for the new Economic Development Strategy and identify other emerging issues or programs that Council should pursue to promote enterprise and innovation and to grow local businesses. City of Prospect is establishing an Executive of the Prospect Business Leaders, which will encourage two-way communication between Council and the business community.

Main North Road & North East Road Investment Attraction

In June, business and property owners met to hear about the Main North Road Masterplan and what potential their property/business could have for development and private investment. Estate agents from Knight Frank were in attendance to guide any interested parties on the best way forward.

New Economic Strategy

The current Economic Development and Digital Economy Strategies are dated 2014 to 2018. A summary report on progress with the strategies will be made to the November meeting of Council. The Economic Snapshot will be used to paint a picture of the local economy, with the Prospect Business Leaders group and development of new economic initiatives for Prospect and its business community over the next five years.

Prospect Road Destination Marketing

Council introduced a separate rate in Prospect Road Village Heart/High Street Policy Area in 2017/2018, which has been endorsed for 2018/2019. City of Prospect is collaborating with local businesses through the Village Heart Marketing Fund Committee to promote the main street as a destination. A destination marketing campaign was adopted by the Village Heart Marketing Fund Committee to develop the Prospect Road brand. The 8 marketing videos were successfully promoted on social media.

Prospect Community Support - Reference Group

Council provides a range of home and social support services for our older residents, aged over 65 years, who wish to continue living independently in their own homes and remain connected to their local community.

This is often the first time that a resident receives this type of support, having made contact with Council's Community Support team after being referred through the Commonwealth-funded 'My Aged Care' program.

Council is interested to establish a reference group of local residents who have an interest in ensuring that the programs and activities of the Community Support team are provided in line with the Australian aged care and quality compliance framework, which ensures that older people receive safe, quality aged care services.

The reference group will meet twice a year and have a membership of approximately eight residents who are aged over 65 years and possess a keen interest to positively influence the provision of local aged care services through Council's Community Support team.

For more information, or to register your interest to join the reference group, call the Community Support team on:

Does Prospect need a Community Choir?

If your answer is YES, come along to a meeting and raise your voice with others who would like to start up a joyous, 'for everyone' community choir.

Council wants to help build a happier and healthier community and the idea of setting-up a choir has been striking a chord as having the right tempo of what we all love about Prospect.

Council can assist with access to a suitable facility - all that is needed is the right choir leader and motivated individuals who are tuned into the idea of establishing a community choir.

Together we can build to a crescendo!

Existing community groups who may be interested in supporting or sponsoring a community choir are welcome.

Come along to the meeting on Monday 24 September from 6pm-7pm at Prospect Town Hall, 126 Prospect Road, Prospect.

If you're interested in the choir, please RSVP to Community Development Officer Liz Gunn on:

Selling this spring?

Follow these simple steps to dramatically increase your chances of getting a great sale price.

Words:
Peter Shizas
0412 814 714
peters@harrisre.com.au

At Harris we know that immaculate presentation both inside and out has the potential to heavily influence the sale price. For this reason, we recommend the presentation of your home be carefully considered.

Follow this guide on how to prepare your home for profit.

1. First impressions count and your property is no different

First impressions often stick with a buyer and you need to take an objective look at your property. Many buyers will view your property from the street or when driving by. Also they will be using the front door whereas you might always use the back entrance to your home. It is therefore important to take a step back and imagine seeing your home for the first time. You will notice things that you might not have otherwise, eg, a fence that needs painting, a broken window, an overgrown garden.

2. Breathing space

The art of illusion and creating space within a home is a huge selling point. Some simple tips that can help your home appear spacious and open include removing furniture from the property in order to open up rooms and hallways; accentuate the feeling of spaciousness by opening curtains and blinds to let in natural light; on the outside of the home trim or prune back trees and shrubs which shade windows and block out important natural light.

3. Right on the money

We advise clients not to spend too much money on renovating their homes prior to selling. However, some additions and improvements are well worth the spend. Make a list and take photos of the repairs required to your home. Think like a purchaser. The golden rule of thumb is – if something needs to be repaired, fix it!; Do one room at a time and either repair yourself or outsource.

4. General maintenance check list

Here are just some of the items that we recommend our clients address before putting their home on the market:

- Wash all of the windows
- Check smoke detectors
- Check doors and windows for cracked seals and peeling paint and repair as needed
- Dust/vacuum the tops of cupboards

- Move furniture that you don't normally move and vacuum thoroughly
- Inspect bathroom and kitchen tiles and sinks and reseal where needed
- Clean light fittings and skylights and if your kitchen has fluorescent lighting fixtures, use 'warm-white' bulbs for a bright appearance
- Clean kitchen exhaust hood and filter
- Clean sliding door and window tracks
- Clean debris from ceiling fan blades and air conditioner ducts before using
- Sweep and wash the driveway and walkways to remove debris, dirt and stains. Remove any oil stains if possible. Repair and patch any cracks
- Check gutters for leaks or damage and remove debris
- Lawn care: mow high and often. Feed the lawn with fertiliser, treat weeds, and aerate the lawn in high traffic areas

For a complete checklist contact us.

5. Report back

These days most people will get a building and pest inspection before they purchase a property. Many owners assume they are only relevant to purchasers who generally have them conducted during the cooling off period or prior to auction day. However, having your home inspected for structural and termite damage can be highly advantageous as it gives you control over the selling and negotiation process. If no issues are found, you will have peace of mind knowing the purchaser won't be able to use any problems as a means to negotiate the price down. And if an issue is found, you can take action to resolve it before your home is listed for sale.

6. Picture perfect

Having a home professionally styled can ensure that your home is ready for perfect photos to entice as many buyers to the home as possible. Adding fresh flowers, turning on lamps, removing all unnecessary clutter and even taking down sheer curtains if possible, clearing of all fridge magnets, adding a bowl of fresh fruit to the kitchen bench top to add colour, removing pet bowls, and lighting candles are just some of the many ways that you can make sure that your property is perfect on photo day. At Harris we have our own bespoke photographers who can work with you to ensure that your photos are perfect.

If you would like any further information or would like to speak with a Harris recommended home stylist please do not hesitate to contact us.
