Men's Shedders - Making Connections

The Prospect Community Support social program Men's Shed was approached by Palliative Care Arts therapist, Estelle Chapple who works with patients at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, to take part in a project that assists with adding to the quality of life for patients who are terminally ill.

The fine and skilled work the men have been able to deliver includes revitalising artworks obtained from the old Royal Adelaide Hospital and acquired by Queen Elizabeth Hospital

Palliative Ward, courtesy of the Centre for Creative Health, in order to be ready to hang in patients' rooms as part of a Palliative Art Library. This included strengthening current picture frames and paint touch-ups where necessary to freshen up the artwork. In some cases, hooks and wire were added to make the artwork ready to hang. It is amazing how a frame can almost make the picture.

Shedders have also been busy creating garden features such as bird feeders, birdhouses and beautiful wooden birds that can be painted and decorated by patients and then used to enhance the Palliative Care Ward garden. The opportunity to sand, paint and complete these projects instils a sense of meaning and purpose for the patients, who are often men also. This project also encourages the wonderful native birds that bring much enjoyment to the patients with their visits.

Tiny fairy garden doors and furniture, also made by the shedders, offer wonder and a sense of a special space to welcome young children and family visiting their loved ones in the hospital garden, offering positive memories and experiences.

This collaboration has created positive outcomes for palliative care patients by enabling them to choose their own artwork to hang in their rooms making it more personable, as well as offering them a sense of autonomy while they remain in hospital. The enjoyment of completing and seeing the wooden items in the garden offers a sense of fulfilment and purpose to the patients, as well as being highly decorative.

Your New Councillors

Mayor David O'Loughlin

In 2006 you elected me to bring this city to life. Overwhelmingly you tell me Council has made a difference. But there is so much more we must do. Finish the 18 year long Prospect Road upgrade, plant hundreds of trees to “green tunnel” every street, find funding for new clubrooms at Broadview Oval, and finish our once in 50 years Civic Centre. Upgrade Nailsworth Hall into a community hub, and transform Collinswood shops and dance hall into a loved landscaped precinct. Attract quality development to blighted main road sites, whilst protecting our loved streetscapes and listed heritage. With your support we’ve almost doubled heritage protections, secured fibre to premises NBN, the $85m new Botanic High, and more shops, restaurants, cinemas and jobs than previously imagined, all adding to your property value and lifestyle. With your continued support, together, we can achieve so much more.

Central Ward Alison De Backer

Living in Prospect for the last 9 years and North Adelaide for the previous 10, I love the inner north’s character buildings, coffee culture, creative community and garden lifestyle. I am passionate about promoting and protecting these qualities - the very things that make Prospect such a popular place to be. I have a background in sustainable building design and work as a consultant in the local area. I have been an Elected Member for Prospect in the Central Ward over the last four years, am a current member of the Prospect Local History Group and a committee member for the community learning organisation Prospect U3A. I look forward to representing my community again and will continue to promote a positive future for Prospect whilst respecting the area’s distinguished past.

Central Ward Mark Groote

During my term on council I have worked hard to deliver outcomes for the community. But there is still more to do. The Central Ward deserves a strong and experienced voice in council, someone with a record of achieving results, and someone who always acts with honesty and integrity. This is why I nominated as your local and independent councillor. Council must continue to be transparent in all that it does, reducing costs through shared services, and working positively with all tiers of government. Looking at new ways of managing traffic in our side streets and being environmentally responsible are important priorities - and I’ll keep advocating for this along with increased investment in our parks and more sustainable development to protect the character we’re so proud of. All these things will make the City of Prospect a better place to be - and is my vision for our community.

East Ward Allen Harris

I have represented the Eastern side of Prospect for twenty years, four as Deputy Mayor. My wife and I have lived in Nailsworth for thirty four years. We have four children who were educated at Nailsworth Primary, where I am currently on the Governing Council and have been for approximately twenty four years. There are still many things that need to be done for our side of Main North Road. More street trees, improved playgrounds, improved traffic calming and increased activities for the youth and elderly. I want to continue to keep the East Ward as a safe and healthy place to raise our families and enjoy our twilight years. As I have said before, I won’t make any promises, however, I will make one commitment. I will give it my all and try my best for every resident on the Eastern side of Prospect.

East Ward Steven Rypp

My name is Steven Rypp and I am representing the East Ward on the City of Prospect Council. I am recently married and have moved into our own home in this area. I am committed to supporting my local community and have a comprehensive understanding of how local government operates, having been a West Torrens Councillor for 4 years. I have a Bachelor of Management (Honours) and Business double degree and I am currently employed as an Office Manager for the State Government. I have worked in both the public and private sectors, and I have contributed to different community organisations as a volunteer. I have been speaking to many residents, community groups and business owners to find out what really matters to you. This information will be invaluable in serving you and our local community.

North Ward Thuy Nguyen

Prospect is a wonderfully diverse place with a strong sense of community. I believe it has come a long way but there is more to be done, especially here in the North Ward. Living locally in the ward with my husband and two young children, I know the issues that affect us. Let's improve our streets by removing weeds, keeping street trees healthy and streets shaded and providing quality open spaces for all. With 15 years experience working in the community services sector assisting youths, families and older people, I am no stranger to advocating and representing for a wide range of voices. It is with this sense of community that I sought election to Council. I will represent the issues of our city and work to improve our northern 'fringe' to continue to make Prospect a great place for all of us.

North Ward Robin Pearce

As a long term resident of Prospect I have experienced many changes and developments to the lifestyle and facilities of the local area. On a personal level I have purchased and renovated a house in the North Ward to make a home where I have raised a family. My two children were educated at local schools and through family networks I have been involved in many sporting, community clubs, school councils and committees. The key issues that I believe require addressing are the impact of high rise developments on local residents together with traffic congestion and parking concerns. I am not affiliated with any group or political party. I am committed to actively engage with the people in the area and be a strong advocate to ensure that our community continues to grow and thrive making Prospect an ideal place to live.

West Ward Matt Larwood

As a Prospect resident for nearly 40 years, my family and I enjoy living in an area which provides a quality lifestyle. I love the inclusive community feel and vibrancy of our village heart, I love our parks and open spaces and I love the character and heritage of our side streets. As an Elected Member for the past four years (West Ward) I'm proud that I've played a role in these achievements and I nominated again to continue making things even better. I'm passionate about sport and recreation and I'll work hard to make sure our families have high quality parks to play in. I want to help our business community thrive. And I'll make sure we maintain the character of our city which makes us unique. I have the skills, expertise and knowledge of what the community wants in order to do a great job in this role.

West Ward Kristina Barnett

I feel privileged serving on Prospect Council. During 27 years on Council (including former Mayor), I've actively supported residents. Recently retired, I've more time to assist. I support improving planning; traffic management; strengthening Prospect's residential heritage character; increasing shady tree-lined streets; keeping footpaths safe; improving Cane and Whittle Reserves and Devonport Terrace, and affordable rates. I'm committed to our new library civic centre embracing community meeting spaces and revitalised Town Hall within budget. I've genuine feeling for Prospect: since 1973, we've raised our family here; involved in playgroups, toy library, kindergartens, childcare, Prospect Primary School. I value community involvement (member of Prospect Local History Group, Friends of Prospect Library, Prospect Local Environment Group, Prospect Residents Association, U3A Prospect, and Prospect Arts Action Network). I support Prospect Community Garden and Prospect RSL. Prospect City: a vibrant place to live, work, shop: that's my motivation to represent you!

10 Gig Reasons to Invest in Prospect

David Pisoni MP, Minister for Industry and Skills and Lauren Hillman, General Manager, Channel 44

The Prospect GigCity network was launched by the Minister for Industry and Skills, David Pisoni on 12 September at Palace Nova Prospect Cinemas.

GigCity is underpinned and powered by SABRENet, while Escapenet has been engaged by the Government to roll out the network to individual precincts.

City of Prospect's new Investment Attraction Strategy, 10 Gig Reasons to Invest in Prospect, is about how we are making the shift from an apartment-led revitalisation to both apartment and commercial development. GigCity is a big part of that shift, but it is also the high amenity of Prospect that we have that will attract companies and knowledge workers. Prospect now has the data speeds, the coffee and the lifestyle.

From more information on the GigCity network or our Investment Attraction Strategy and new document, please contact Director Business and Innovation, Chris Hannaford.

12 'Wastes' of Christmas – Easy Steps to Reduce, Re-use and Recycle

1. Food Glorious Food

Don't waste food scraps, place in green organics bin, compost bin or worm farm. Compost bins and worm farms can make a great Christmas present too.

TIP: Freeze seafood and other foods with strong odours until the day of your bin collection.

2. Less is More

Give a gift that has less environmental impact, like massages, tickets to events, reusable produce bags, reusable coffee cups, reusable water bottles and potted herbs.

3. Cheers, Bottles and Cans

Food and drink packaging such as bottles, cans, jars, tins, cardboard and cartons can be recycled.

TIP: Add a bit of extra cheer to your Christmas by depositing your 10 cent bottles and cans at your nearest bottle recycling centres.

4. Recycling is not Numbered

The triangular symbol with the number 1 to 7 doesn't necessarily mean it is recyclable, it is the plastic identification code used by manufacturers to label different types of plastic. Determine if it can be recycled in your yellow lidded bin with the scrunch test. Scrunch the item and if it pops back into the shape, it is rigid plastic that can be recycled loose in your yellow lidded bin. If it stays crunched it is a soft plastic, if it breaks up it is likely to be expanded polystyrene foam. Both of these cannot be recycled through your yellow lidded bin – best to avoid and reduce using these items.

TIP: Most soft plastics can be placed in the REDcycle bins and to find your nearest drop off point, visit www.REDCycle.net.au

5. Keep it Clean

Give bottles, jars and tins a quick rinse before placing in your recycling bin to ensure they are free from food contamination that may cause them to be diverted to landfill. The water you use to rinse will be more than made up for in the water saved recycling versus making a new item from raw materials.

6. Lids Off

Many drink lids can be recycled too. For metal lids place them inside a steel can and squeeze the top closed so they don't fall out. For plastic lids (and other small plastic items like bread taps and straws) place them inside a see through plastic container or bottle (including milk or juice cartons). Small items fall through the machines and are not recycled but this method will capture them.

7. Let's Make it Clearer

Not all glass can go in your yellow lidded bin. Glass bottles and jars are perfect but drinking glasses, oven-proof glass and crockery have to go to landfill in the red lidded bin.

8. Powered Up

Buy rechargeable batteries and a battery charger. They are a smarter environmental choice and save you money too.

TIP: Non-rechargeable batteries can be recycled but not in your yellow lidded bin. Head to www.recycleright.sa.gov.au to find your closest drop off point.

9. E-Christmas

Did you get a new TV, computer, white goods or other electronic item for Christmas? Recycle your old electronic item (anything with a cord, battery or switch) through E-waste for free. E-waste contains valuable and rare materials such as gold and copper, which can be recovered and reused. Electric and electronic items also contains hazardous materials that are damaging to the environment if not disposed of correctly.

E-waste should not be placed in any of your kerbside bins, find your nearest drop-off location through Electronic Recycling Australia – Unplug N' Drop or Recycling Near You websites.

MoblieMuster is the official recycling program for mobile phones in Australia and you can simply bring your old mobile phones to City of Prospect, Thomas Street Centre or visit www.mobilemuster.com.au to find a drop-off point near you.

10. The 'White' Christmas Packaging

Polystyrene foam packing, even if it has a triangular symbol, is not recyclable through your kerbside yellow lid bin, so sadly you will either have to put it in your red lid bin or visit www.coolfoam.com.au for a more environmentally friendly disposal option. Whole sheets of paper can be recycled but shredded paper is too small to sort and recycle. Put shredded paper (loose – not in a bag) in your green lid organics bin instead.

11. Christmas Tree O' Christmas Tree

A once living Christmas tree can be cut into smaller pieces and placed in your green lid organics bin or taken to a waste transfer station for composting. If you're purchasing an artificial tree, make sure it's good quality and will last you many festive seasons because at the end of its life it goes to landfill in your red lid bin and cannot be recycled.

12. That's a Wrap

Re-use pre-loved wrapping paper and bags and tie with reusable ribbon instead of tape and new wrapping paper to reduce waste. Paper, wrapping, cards and cardboard boxes can be recycled by placing in your yellow lid bin or kept and reused for another time. Cellophane can be recycled through the REDcycle bin scheme. Visit www.REDCycle.net.au for your nearest drop off location.

Book Review:
ALL OF OUR YESTERDAYS
By Cristin Terrill.
This dystopian novel by American author Cristin Terrill is a great read for teen readers (and adults). It was published a few years ago but is not as well-known as other popular dystopian books such as The Hunger Games series by Suzanne Collins or the Divergent trilogy by Veronica Roth.

Em and Marina tell the story in turn, moving from the current time ('today') to a time a few years in the past ('yesterday') and back again, until the past and present storylines eventually merge. Marina is a teenage girl from a privileged and wealthy family, with many teenage hopes and dreams, including trying to attract the attention of James, the handsome and intelligent boy next door. Em is locked in a cell, being urged to take drastic action by the boy in the cell next to hers, to try to prevent terrible things from happening. Em needs to escape from her cell and travel back in time, to kill the boy Marina loved, in order to save her future. Although the story line switches between 'today' and 'yesterday', the narrator's name at the start of each chapter makes it easy to follow. This tale is action-packed, and since time travel is involved, the outcome of actions cannot be known or predicted as the future changes depending on what takes place today. If you enjoy time-travel and dystopian books, this one is for you!

Book Review:
BEFORE I LET YOU GO
By Kelly Rimmer.

Australian author Kelly Rimmer's most recent novel is a heart-rending read. It tells the story of two sisters, Lexie and Annie. Lexie has not heard from Annie for years, not since throwing her drug-addicted sister out of her home. This time, Annie needs her help more than ever, as she is pregnant and in premature labour. Narration moves between Lexie in the present time and excerpts from Annie's journal, which fill in the shared history between the sisters. Under the law of the US state in which they live, Annie faces a tough choice – lose custody of her baby, maybe even go to prison, or try once again to become free of drugs. Lexie needs to step in again to help her sister but is faced with the harsh reality that it is up to Annie to win her struggle against drug addiction. The diary excerpts gradually reveal Annie's spiral downwards into drug use – and it would be a hard-hearted person who condemned Annie. Keep reading to find out what happens to Annie, the baby and Lexie in this gripping tale.

Home Library Service

Did you know that the City of Prospect Library runs a Home Library Service? No? Well, we do! This means that if you or someone that you know who lives in City of Prospect and can't get into the Library due to illness/injury (permanent or temporary), we will visit with a selection of books, DVDs, CDs, magazines and more at your home. We visit every four weeks and bring enough items to see you through until our next visit.
During our visit to the Labrina Village Residential Care facility we spoke with one of our customers, Jean Lang, about how she has found the service.
"I always look forward to your visits. The selection of books is very good and it is so lovely to peek in the red box and find something new to read. I also like that if I have a request for a particular book, you track it down for me. Oh, and it is nice to have a chat too," Jean said.

A vital part of our Home Library Service is our selections volunteer, Margaret Gleaves. Margaret has a great knowledge of books and authors.
"I really enjoy volunteering in this capacity. It is lovely to meet such interesting people and have a chat. By visiting our customers, I have the opportunity to determine people's interests and choice of reading material. Once I have an idea of their favourite authors or genres, I can help introduce them to other writers in a similar style," Margaret said.

'Give Me Shelter' temporary public artwork

Art doesn't always happen in galleries

Staged during the recent SALA Festival, Joan Boylan's performance based art project 'Nuclear Fallout Ultra-Safe Central Control Tent' attracted around 40 people to a participatory artistic event in the beautiful surrounds of St Helens Park.

Some of those who joined in were local families playing in the nearby playground, while others came from as far away as Melbourne.

Participants ranged from a variety of different groups including musicians, performance artists, anti-nuclear activists, local families and country visitors.

The feedback from participants was overwhelmingly positive. The venue, the dancing, singing, flash-mob and time to view the artworks was greatly appreciated by all.

Partly funded through a City of Prospect Small Temporary Quick Response Public Art Grant, the event also coincided with the topical debate on the proposed South Australian nuclear waste dump and celebrated the local environment in a welcoming public space.

The 2017/18 Small Temporary Public Art Grant program offered funding up to $1,000 to individual artists for temporary public art projects or installations within City of Prospect boundaries.

Priority was given to proposals that:

- are new, innovative and aim to engage the community;
- improve local amenity;
- have not previously received funding from Council; and
- occur in areas not usually considered as a site for a public art experience

A public art proposal submitted by artist Bridgette Minuzzo 'Give Me Shelter' was selected as a 2018 Prospect public art grant recipient by the City Wide Public Art Roundtable in 2017 and the artist given 12 months to install the artwork.

Identified by the artist as a suitable location, the artwork was installed within a City of Prospect-owned bus shelter located at Stop 8 Prospect Road, in front of the Blackfriars Priory School, in October.

Artist Bridgette Minuzzo stated, 'Give Me Shelter' is an idea that investigates the restorative effects of nature-themed art in areas where actual nature isn't feasible, with the positive and restorative effects of nature in mind. The public site (bus stop 8) has been selected as this is where people often sit and spend time; the humble bus shelter."

Local Artists on Show - The 20th Prospect Community Art Show

Tree Watering

This year we planted 270 trees in verges, parks and reserves. As the weather forecast is for a long, dry, hot summer, the first three years of a tree’s life are vital to ensure a long and healthy life.

It’s important that the trees receive enough water during dry and hot weather conditions and you’ll see our watering truck driving around the entire city watering all of our trees.

All of us can play a part in keeping our trees alive and we are calling on our community to help with watering, especially the newly planted trees. If we’ve planted a tree in front of or near your home, we’d love to see you helping by pouring a bucket or two of water during periods of no rain.

Every bucket of water you provide will help our thirsty trees. An easy way to remember is a drink for me, a drink for my tree.

○ Stan Watson
Expansion

As part of our preparation to upgrade the Stan Watson Reserve at 93-95 Charles Street, we undertook a community survey asking for feedback of what people would like to see in the new reserve.

All responses were positive and residents provided great suggestions and ideas including themed and challenging play equipment, swings, nature play, park furniture, a family BBQ area, grassed area for recreation and additional shade trees. Equipment and furniture has been ordered and we plan to deliver the project in time for the community to enjoy this summer.

Don't Act Your Age

Community Theatre Workshops for Older Persons.

Learn whilst playing; a wonderful mix of theatre games, improvisational play and drama fun for the older person (50+)!

June joined Vintage Theatre Co-op's Don't Act Your Age Salisbury workshop program in 2016 and has since experienced firsthand the amazing benefits that come from participating in such a supportive and creative ageing environment.

June said, "I had never acted in my life before I came to my first workshop session. I heard Alan speak about the benefits to brain health of participating in drama and the arts. He also talked about how being involved could enhance my health and wellbeing and improve my social connection. And much, much more!"

Vintage Theatre Co-op is a community-run program through which participants work collaboratively with the programs Artistic Director Alan Hendry to create and perform new short intimate theatre works. Participants enjoy a range of theatre games, improvisation activities as well as learning some basic techniques for voice projection, stage movement, script reading and stage performance.

Alan is a community arts director with over 30 years' experience within the community theatre sector and worked extensively in community services for the older person.

The Don't Act Your Age workshops hope to challenge the stereotypical view that the community has of how the older person should behave and act. Workshops are held in a safe, supportive and accessible environment.

No experience is required... just the willingness to have fun and unlock your creativity!

○ Housing Diversity and Desirable Neighbourhoods Study

Do you value the local housing and character in your area? Does the existing housing in Prospect meet your current and future needs? Do you want to remain in Prospect but with a different type of house? Now is the time to let us know your views.

Council is currently undertaking a comprehensive review of its Residential Zone to compliment recent work completed along our main roads (Urban Corridor Zone) and historic conservation areas through the 'Housing Diversity and Desirable Neighbourhoods Study'. This project will establish what types of residential development we would like to see within our local streets and to be ready for the introduction of the Planning and Design Code (to replace all Development Plans) when it is introduced by the State Government in 2020.

The scope of this project is multi-faceted and includes:

- Strategic and emerging population and demographic analysis
- Development Plan review
- Streetscape assessment of residential character

- Visual presentation of desired housing initiatives
- Stakeholder and community engagement
- Reporting back to the community.

Council wishes to appropriately engage with the local community on this important issue and there will be various ways to get involved and provide feedback (articles, council website, workshops, community forums & street walking tours).

For more information, please contact Project Manager, Rick Chenoweth.

○ Heritage Grant Funding

Our suburbs are currently experiencing changes from new development, particularly on our Main Road corridors.

Heritage places and areas that are valued by the local community are also receiving attention and support from Council as it undertakes various tasks to help protect, upgrade and maintain these local assets. Planning policy amendments saw the expansion (almost doubling) in 2016 of the number of local heritage places and historical areas within Council's Development Plan.

In addition to legislative protection, Council also proactively supports local residents and businesses to maintain and upgrade their heritage and character properties through its Heritage Grant Program. Annual grants are provided to successful applicants and in 2017/18 a total of $18,500 was provided to 14 different projects, which contributed to $135,784 in conservation and preservation works in City of Prospect.

The type of conservation works granted funding under the program have provided a positive contribution to the local streets.

These projects include:

- Verandah replacement and revealing original stone wall,
- Chimney repairs,
- Re-pointing, re-painting and salt damp repairs,
- Front fencing, and
- Re-roofing

Applications for the 2018/19 Heritage Grants Program were assessed in October to allow works to be completed prior to the end of the 2018/19 financial year. This is an ongoing program and Council will take applications throughout the year, with unspent funds allocated throughout the year and any applications received after September likely to be assessed in the following financial year.

Council is appreciative of the sense of pride and commitment that our community continues to show towards the built environment and streetscapes and will support conservation works that help to tell the story of settlement in our community.

2019 Waste Calendars

Waste collection services for the City of Prospect are largely managed by East Waste, including recyclables, green organics for compost and waste for landfill.

Each year, East Waste produces a calendar of dates for collection of these three waste streams. The calendar also includes information about hard waste, e-waste (electronic waste) and hazardous waste.

Other ways to keep informed about your waste collection include:

- 1. My Local Services app: the waste section of this free smart-phone app includes quick access to the next waste collection dates at your address and access to the waste collection calendar. You will also receive bin collection reminders and helpful recycling and waste reduction tips. The app can also be used to report if a bin collection is missed or to book a hard waste collection. Utilise the handy “Which Bin” feature to check which bin to place items in.
- 2. Council website: you can download the waste collection calendar and access resources that explain the three-bin system used in City of Prospect at www.prospect.sa.gov.au/waste
- 3. Hard copy: if you require a printed copy of the waste collection calendar, council will print a hard copy for you at the customer service desk, 1 Thomas St, Nailsworth.

You can access the “Which Bin” information and resources online if you do not have access to the My Local Services app. This online resource is kept up-to-date and answers many potential questions about how waste should be managed:

Single-Use Plastic

Single-use plastics, or disposable plastics, are used only once before they are thrown away or recycled.

Common single-use plastics are plastic bags, straws, coffee cups, water bottles and food packaging. These items are usually petroleum-based, are not biodegradable and will go into landfill where it is buried or finds its way into the water stream and into the ocean.

What can we do to stop disposal of single-use plastic in our landfills and ocean?

- Stop buying plastic water bottles and invest in a stainless steel or glass reusable bottle. This small step will help toward saving the environment and you'll also save money.
- Avoid plastic straws, utensils, food and drink containers and bags when you're out and about. By carrying your own utensils, reusable stainless steel, bamboo or glass drink straws, reusable coffee cup or food container or lunchbox, you will avoid polluting the environment and reduce your single-use plastic use.
- Say no to fruit and veggie plastic bags. Put the items loose in your trolley – you're going to rinse the produce once you're home anyway. Or bring your own reusable cotton or mesh produce bags with you.
- When you can't avoid plastic packaging, try buying in bulk to reduce the overall plastic.

Responsible Pet Ownership

Many pet owners consider their pets an extension of the family unit, so understanding your pet’s needs and being aware of your responsibilities is important.

Dog owners should do a few simple things to keep their pets out of trouble and their neighbours happy:

- Make sure your dog is properly fenced in at home.
- Use a leash when you are out.
- Train them not to bark excessively.
- Stop them from roaming or being aggressive.
- Pick up any litter left by them in public.
- Make sure they are registered and identified so they can be returned if lost.

Caring For Your Pet

Caring for your pet’s welfare is a full time commitment and there are many factors that need to be considered before acquiring a pet.

Selecting the right pet for your lifestyle is an important place to start. If you’re considering owning a dog, choose a breed that matches your lifestyle and your environment (house, yard, flat). Make sure that you can devote the necessary time to training, exercising and socialising your pet.

It is also important to determine whether you can afford the veterinary check-ups, vaccinations and food that your pet will require during its lifetime. Ask your local vet for advice if you are not sure.

Dog Registration

It’s the law that all dogs must be registered before 30 August each year. Dog registrations are an important investment in your pet, providing safety and security, as well as assisting Council to contact you in case your pet is lost, injured or involved in an incident.

Barking

All dogs bark, but some barking dogs become a real neighbourhood nuisance - greatly reducing people’s quality of life and increasing neighbourhood tensions.

Barking dogs are the most common animal behaviour problem Council is asked to deal with. Ongoing barking is often a symptom of another problem, and understanding what makes your dog bark is the first step towards solving this problem, both for the dog involved and your neighbours. Talk to Council, your vet or pet shop for advice.

If you’re experiencing an animal noise issue, you’re encouraged to resolve the matter yourself by speaking with the person responsible for the animal that’s creating the noise, as in many instances we find that pet owners aren’t aware of the noise impacting you. Discussing the matter may result in a suitable compromise for both parties.

If no compromise is reached you may wish to lodge a formal complaint with Council, particularly if the noise or nuisance is persistent and unreasonably interferes with your peace, comfort or convenience. Complaint forms are available on the Council website or give our customer service team a call on 8269 5355.

Dog Attacks

It’s important to know and understand your dog so you can avoid situations that may cause it to become aggressive or engage in inappropriate play. As a responsible dog owner you must ensure your dog is under effective control at all times such as keeping them in a secure fenced yard, on a leash when out in public or ensuring your dog is suitable to be exercised off leash in dog parks and other off leash areas. If your dog is aggressive, under-socialised, un-trained, anxious or even in heat you would best avoid situations that could put you, your pet and others at risk.

When dog attacks occur it’s often a very distressful time for all involved including the dog, dog owner, victim and Council officers responsible for carrying out the investigation. Where dog owners are found to be in breach of their responsibilities there are penalties which could easily be avoided by being a responsible pet owner.

CLIC Construction Continues!

The construction of your new Community Hub, Library and Innovation Centre (CLIC) is progressing well, with the building structure rising out of the ground to appear above the site hoardings.

With the ground floor slab completed, there is a real sense of the size of the new library and art gallery, as well as how the new building will relate to the adjacent local heritage-listed Town Hall.

The project team have been using a combination of construction techniques, with in-situ concrete pours for the columns and lift shaft, a post-tensioned concrete slab to the ground floor, concrete tilt-up panels to the northern wall, and structural steel columns (and K-bracing) extending vertically through the building. This multi-faceted approach is required to achieve an open and airy feel to the building, with glazing on three sides of the building, as well as providing future flexibility by ensuring there are as few columns as possible.

We're now seeing works progressing at a rapid pace, with the main building structure due to be completed and enclosed by February 2019 prior to the glazing and façade screen being completed. With works continuing up until a brief break over the Christmas period, we can all look forward to watching the facility take shape over the coming months. Passers-by continue to enjoy being able to see the construction progress through special portholes located in the covered passageway at the front of the site, or you can also view construction from Vine Plaza.

Cycle Instead

Cycling instead of driving a car saves an estimated average of 225 grams of CO2 emissions per kilometre for urban areas.

This summer, plan your journey to work, school, shops or park with Cycle Instead Planner via www.dpti.sa.gov.au/communityprograms

The bike planner generates cycling routes using Adelaide's Bikedirect network of main roads, bike lanes, local streets, off-road paths and unsealed tracks and, you can choose a variety of routes based on your level of confidence, road conditions and travel times.

In September, City of Prospect hosted a Bike Friendly Forum at North Adelaide Football Club. The event was an opportunity for prompt communication and opportunities between the community and Local and State governments to contribute towards participation and advocacy of a bike friendly city.

Approximately 30 people attended the event and heard from presenters from Bike SA, Adelaide Bike Kitchen, Department of Planning, Transport and Infrastructure, Bike Institute of SA and City of Adelaide.

Rose planting in Barker Gardens

Our rose gardens at Barker Gardens are starting to take shape with the planting of new roses.

One special lady, Chris (right), joined us on planting day to plant a rose in memory of her mother, Thelma Braham, who had a strong connection with the Prospect area. Gavin from the Rose Society of SA (centre) is continuing to assist us with all his hard work. His great support and the support of the Rose Society is very valuable and has helped Jacob (left) and the rest of our team prepare the rose gardens. We look forward to continuing the rejuvenation of the rose gardens with the next stage commencing in the coming months.

FEATURED TOP AGENT

TOP AGENT MAGAZINE

PETER FENWICK

Profile of PETER FENWICK

(reproduced with permission from Top Agent Magazine – a global magazine profiling Real Estate Agents internationally and in Australia)

Peter was chosen by Top Agent Magazine to be profiled in their December 2018 edition as the top Agent in the Prospect area.

Here are some examples from the article:

“Peter was introduced to Real Estate in 1980 while working for a management consultant company. After being introduced to a real estate company and working with them, he felt a deep connection. ‘It really clicked’, Peter explained – so I got my real estate certification and joined the team.”

Today Peter and his team mainly specialises in Prospect. “The best piece of advice I got was to specialise in an area, ideally one in which you live” he says. He has sold over 2000 homes in the Prospect area over the course of his career, and in one street with a total of 72 homes he’s sold more than half of them. We’re very committed to our local community. Around 90-95 percent of his business is based off referrals and repeat business.

Peter and his team take the time to get to know their buyers and sellers, and spend a lot of time with them discussing their needs. “It’s the quality of the relationship and the service at the end of the day” A lot of people appreciate the extent to which we support the local community.

Not only do they help the community with their real estate needs, they also sponsor events contributing a quarter of a million dollars throughout the last 38 years to various local events. They also donate to 25 local and international charities.

Peter can’t imagine doing anything else. It’s really a people business. I love the interaction with local people helping them achieve their goals of buying or selling.”
